KEEPING IT REAL

THE CLIENTS YOU WROTE OFF? CALL THEM FIRST.

A top lender on the past clients agents keep skipping because of one number.

D.J. Paris
Keeping It Real Podcast

"

"NO ONE FALLS IN LOVE WITH THE MORTGAGE, YOU FALL IN LOVE WITH THE HOUSE."

Austin Clarence. Mortgage Loan Officer and Investor Financing Specialist, Next to Mortgage.

D.J. Paris
Keeping It Real Podcast

KEEPING IT REAL

THEIR 2-3% RATE WAS NEVER THE REAL WALL.

Agents assume a client sitting on a 2021-2022 rate is done moving and cross them off the list. Austin's point: life doesn't wait for rates. A new baby, in-laws moving in, a new job, the house still has to change. What most agents miss is the client doesn't have to sell that rate away to do it. After 12 months in the home, a lease on the old property can help them qualify for the next mortgage, rate and all, still intact.

D.J. Paris
Keeping It Real Podcast

1 Call your sub-4% clients first.
Austin says these are the owners who've mentally written themselves off. They're actually the easiest yes in your database, they just don't know it yet.

2 Pitch the rental, not the sale.
After living in a home 12 months, a lease can help a client qualify for the next mortgage without giving up the old rate.

3 Point them to Zillow and ChatGPT.
Free tenant screening and background checks on Zillow, a free lease template start in ChatGPT. The landlord jump is smaller than it sounds.

THE TAKEAWAY

THEIR OLD RATE ISN'T A WALL. IT'S YOUR OPENER.

From this week's Keeping It Real, with Austin Clarence.

D.J. Paris
Keeping It Real Podcast