

INSIDE THE INDUSTRY

I KNOW WHICH AGENTS ARE ABOUT TO QUIT.

Software scores them for me. It has never recruited a single one. Here's the rule I run instead.

EVERY AGENT IN YOUR MARKET CAN
BUY THE SAME
PREDICTIVE SELLER LIST.

The signal isn't the advantage. The call is.

THE SAME KIND OF TOOL NOW POINTS AT SELLERS.

Courted scores agent attrition risk. Reevaluate scores your own database on who's likely to move in the next 6 to 12 months.

HERE'S THE EASY WAY TO BLOW IT.

"My data says you might be selling." Telling somebody an algorithm flagged them is creepy. It ends the call.

OUR RULE AT KALE: NEVER OPEN WITH THE SIGNAL.

The software gets you the name.

The opener has to earn the conversation on its own.

SAY THIS INSTEAD:

"You've owned that place a long time. Two homes on your block closed this quarter. Want to know what they sold for?"

BEFORE YOU CALL A FLAGGED CONTACT:

- 1 Pull ten owners from your own database who've been in the same house a long time.
- 2 Never mention the tool or the signal in the opener.
- 3 Lead with what sold on their block, not with the algorithm.
- 4 No listing ask on the first call.

THE TAKEAWAY

PULL TEN OWNERS
FROM YOUR OWN
DATABASE WHO'VE
BEEN IN THE SAME
HOUSE A LONG TIME.
CALL ONE TODAY
WITH WHAT SOLD
ON THEIR BLOCK. NO
LISTING ASK.

The software hands you the name. It'll never make the call.
