A $120 MILLION
FUND IS WAITING
ON PEOPLE WHO
DON'T KNOW IT'S THERE.

Past buyers who used an MLS-listed agent may be eligible to file a claim.

NOBODY SENDS THIS LIST. THAT'S WHY THE DEADLINE SNEAKS UP.

The Tuccori homebuyer antitrust settlement totals roughly $120.3 million, with NAR itself contributing $52.25 million of that fund, according to OpenClassActions.com. Anyone who purchased a home listed on an MLS where a commission was paid to any brokerage during the applicable class period may be eligible to file, though sellers are excluded. The deadline to exclude yourself or object is September 17, 2026, and the deadline to file a claim is October 27, 2026. Most past clients have never heard of this case, and nobody in their contact list is telling them the clock is running.

THE SWAP, BEFORE SEPTEMBER 17:

1 Don't assume a past client already knows about this settlement.

Most agents have said nothing, and most buyers have seen nothing.

2 Do pull your closed-transaction list and send the claim link today.

Every MLS purchase where a commission was paid is a potential match.

3 Do name both dates in the message itself.

September 17 to exclude or object, October 27 to file a claim. A vague "check this out" gets ignored.

THE TAKEAWAY

BE THE AGENT WHO TOLD THEM BEFORE THE DEADLINE, NOT AFTER.

The message takes two minutes. The window closes
September 17.
