

KEEPING IT REAL

YOUR BANK'S ANSWER IS ONE ANSWER.

It's not the answer, says a top 1% mortgage producer.

D.J. Paris
Keeping It Real Podcast

KEEPING IT REAL

keepingitrealpod.com

“

WHEN YOUR BUYER'S LENDER SAYS NO, THAT ISN'T THE END OF THE FILE.

Anna Kara, Anna Kara Loans, Los Angeles. A top 1% mortgage producer.

03 / 05

SHE CLOSES 99% OF THE BUYERS A DIFFERENT LENDER ALREADY TURNED DOWN.

Anna Kara's line, stated on Keeping It Real: "Your bank's answer is one answer. It's not the answer." She built her company around it. Her team works with more than 178 different investors, so when one lender declines a buyer, she doesn't treat the file as dead, she shops it somewhere else. Her own number for how often that works: she closes 99% of the buyers who come to her after a different lender has already said no.

WHAT TO DO THE NEXT TIME A LENDER TELLS YOUR BUYER NO:

1 Ask your loan officer how many investors they can shop across.

One lender means one answer. A loan officer working with dozens of investors can place the same file somewhere else the same week.

2 Don't let "declined" end the search.

Anna Kara says she closes 99% of the buyers who show up after a different lender already said no, by shopping the file instead of re-reading it.

3 Say this to the buyer:

"That bank gave you one answer. Let's find out if it's actually the right one."

THE TAKEAWAY

A DECLINE IS ONE LENDER'S OPINION, NOT A VERDICT.

Send that buyer to someone who can shop the file, not just reread it.

D.J. Paris
Keeping It Real Podcast