

KEEPING IT REAL

EVERY LISTING GETS THE SAME TREATMENT.

A Top 1% Washington broker on why price point never decides his effort.

"I WANT THAT
SELLER TO BE ABLE TO LOOK BACK AT EVERY SINGLE HOUSE THAT I'VE LISTED SINCE I WAS 22 YEARS OLD."

Sam Burke, Top 1% broker, Snohomish County,
Washington. John L. Scott.

FULL-SERVICE MARKETING USUALLY STOPS AT THE HIGHEST PRICE POINT.

Sam watched agents an hour south spend big on photography and video, but only on their most expensive listings. He wondered why nobody did that everywhere else.

SAME PHOTOGRAPHER. SAME VIDEOGRAPHER. EVERY TIME.

Sam books professional photography and video on every home he lists. When a deal doesn't cover it, he's paid for cleaning and window washing himself, price point aside.

IT BECAME THE SEPARATOR IN A MARKET THAT DOESN'T DO THIS.

Most agents in his market save that level of service for the biggest paydays. Sam doesn't, and it's turned into the thing his clients tell their friends about.

IT ALSO CLOSED A GAP MONEY CAN'T BUY: BEING 22

The only thing that overcomes youth in this business is looking prepared. Full market data, a real marketing plan, and listings that already look like proof.

1 Book the same photographer and videographer for every listing.

Not just the ones with the biggest commission check.

2 Cover the extras yourself when the deal doesn't.

Cleaning, window washing, staging. The presentation is a reflection of you, not just the house.

3 Walk into every listing appointment fully prepared.

Full data on the home and a real marketing plan, especially if you're the youngest person in the room.

THE TAKEAWAY

EVERY LISTING YOU TAKE IS AN AUDITION FOR THE
ONE YOU
ACTUALLY WANT.
