

KALE REALTY

FAST REPLIES NOW BECOME REQUIRED REPLIES FOREVER.

The four-minute text back that quietly rewrites your job description.

“

REPLY IN FOUR MINUTES ONCE,
AND THAT'S THE
SPEED YOU OWE
EVERY CLIENT
AFTER IT.

A policy beats a habit. Here's the one-sentence fix.

YOU DIDN'T SET A SCHEDULE. YOU SET A PRECEDENT.

Every fast reply is a lesson. Answer a question in four minutes on day one, and the client learns that's your speed, not just today's speed. Six months later, a Sunday-night text gets the same expectation, whether or not you meant to promise it. The fix isn't to slow down. It's to say the policy out loud before the habit sets it for you.

SAY THIS BEFORE THE RELATIONSHIP SETS THE RULE FOR YOU:

- 1 State your hours in the first conversation.
"From eight a.m. to eight p.m., Monday through Friday, I respond to every text within two hours."
- 2 Name your stop time.
"I stop texting at eight p.m. so I can spend time with my family."
- 3 Cover the weekend up front.
Tell them exactly what to expect on Saturday and Sunday, before they test it themselves.

THE TAKEAWAY

SET THE RIGHT EXPECTATION FROM THE START.

A policy you say once beats a habit you defend for years.
