

INSIDE THE INDUSTRY

FOLLOWERS ARE THE LEAST USEFUL NUMBER ON YOUR PAGE.

Not motivation. The algorithm doesn't check it either.

"IF I JUST HAD MORE FOLLOWERS,
I'D GET MORE
CLIENTS."

Almost every agent measuring their content this way has said this to themselves.

72.2% OF MY REELS VIEWS CAME FROM PEOPLE WHO DON'T FOLLOW ME.

D.J. Paris, Personal Instagram, Metricool export, April 2026. The algorithm never checks your follower count before it decides who sees your next video. It checks whether the last batch of strangers it showed the video to stopped scrolling and watched. The follower-growth services selling engagement pods, comment-for-comment ladders, and "gain the next thousand" challenges get paid the same whether that number ever turns into a client.

CHECK THESE THREE NUMBERS BEFORE YOU CHECK FOLLOWERS:

1 Completion rate.

The single heaviest ranking signal on Reels, Shorts, and Facebook video. It decides who sees tomorrow's post, not who followed last month's.

2 Sends.

A private share to another agent is weighted three to five times a like. It is also the only one of these that means a specific person thought of you by name.

3 Saves.

The number that means someone plans to come back and actually use what you posted.
