

D.J. PARIS

A $175 MILLION VERDICT JUST HIT ROCKET'S TITLE ARM.

Rocket Close is the company behind a lot of the bundled closings that have been taking your referrals.

“

THE TITLE REP YOU
STOPPED CALLING
MIGHT BE WORTH
ONE MORE CALL.

A major trade secret verdict just landed on the company that's been pitching your clients on "one less thing to coordinate."

ROCKET CLOSE IS FIGHTING A $175 MILLION VERDICT OVER STOLEN TRADE SECRETS, AND THE CASE STILL ISN'T OVER.

Rocket Close, Rocket Companies' title division, formerly branded Amrock, was hit with a $175 million compensatory damages verdict in a March 2026 retrial. The claimant, HouseCanary, alleged Rocket Close used its licensed valuation software to access proprietary systems, formulas, and data. Rocket Close disputes the outcome and says no judgment has been entered yet, so the fight continues. HouseCanary itself has now filed Chapter 11 bankruptcy, trying to protect the award from its own lender before it collects. None of that touches your clients directly, but it's a real, ongoing distraction inside the company a lot of bundled closings now route through.

WHAT TO DO WITH THAT THIS MONTH:

- 1 List every title and lending referral you stopped sending because a client chose a bundled closing.

Most agents can name at least one without thinking hard.

- 2 Reach out to one of them this week.

Ask what they're offering now, not what they offered two years ago.

- 3 Bring two closing options to your next buyer consult, not just the bundle.

Independent providers and a bundled closing, priced and timed side by side.

- 4 Ask one question before a client defaults to the bundle.

What happens to my closing timeline if something at the provider gets contested?

THE TAKEAWAY

A REFERRAL
RELATIONSHIP YOU
DROPPED FOR CONVENIENCE IS WORTH ONE
PHONE CALL TO CHECK.