SELLING THE MOST HOMES DOESN'T GET YOU PICKED BY AI.

A new study checked. Nearly every top agent had a website. Almost none got named.

03 / 05

THE WEBSITE DOESN'T MATTER. WHAT'S ON IT DOES.

A study of top-producing agents and teams, all with their own websites, ran 37,500 searches across five AI platforms asking for a "best realtor." 91.5 percent were never named once. Even the highest-volume producers only showed up about one in five times. Selling a lot of houses did not get them picked.

WHAT TO PUT ON YOUR SITE THIS WEEK:

1 Write a short page that answers one real buyer question.
200 to 300 words, the way a client would actually type it into ChatGPT.

2 Use the question as the headline.
AI tools match the exact phrasing a buyer searches.

3 Publish one finished page.
One real page beats ten half-written ones.

4 Search your own name after you publish.
Ask the question a client would ask, and see if you show up.

THE TAKEAWAY

SELLING HOUSES DOESN'T MAKE AI SAY YOUR NAME. ANSWERING QUESTIONS DOES.

Write one page this week that answers a question your buyers actually ask.
